

WHITELISTS & BLACKLISTS

Whitelist identifies sites which are confirmed to be trustworthy. Blacklist identifies sites known or highly suspected to be untrustworthy.

"Blacklists and whitelists share the same problem in that they attempt to externalize an evaluation process that is best internal, contextual, and iterative." (Swauger, 2017)

WHITELISTS

Directory of Open Access Journals (DOAJ)

Is the open access journal indexed in this online directory? It indexes and provides access to high quality, open access, peer-reviewed journals.

Open Access Scholarly Publishers' Association (OASPA)

Is the publisher a member of OASPA (Open Access Scholarly Publishers Association)? OASPA is committed to setting standards and promoting open access publishing. These open access publishers share information and are more likely to have higher standards than non-members.

Committee on Publication Ethics (COPE)

Does the publisher belong to the Committee on Publication Ethics (COPE)? COPE Is committed to follow the highest standards of publication ethics and to apply COPE principles of publication ethics outlined in the Core Practices.

INASP's Journals Online

Is the journal hosted on one of INASP's Journals Online platforms (for journals published in Bangladesh, Nepal, Sri Lanka, Central America and Mongolia)?

African Journals Online

Is the journal hosted on African Journals Online (AJOL) for African journals?

BLACKLISTS

Potential predatory scholarly open-access journals

This archived version of the Beall's list is a list of questionable, scholarly open-access standalone journals with new predatory journal titles being added.

Potential predatory scholarly open-access publishers

This archived version of the Beall's list is a list of questionable, scholarly open-access publishers with new predatory publishers being added.

Best viewed with Google Chrome

Except as otherwise noted or where there is re-use of third-party content where their original rights and licenses are to be respected, this site is licenced under the Creative Commons Attribution Non-Commercial 4.0 International Licence.

BLOGS@NTU – A SERVICE BY OIKLS